A world ranked university

Swinburne University of Technology is an internationally recognised research-intensive university.

For the third time in a row, Swinburne is ranked in the Top 100 Universities in the World Under 50 Years Old by QS World University Rankings (2017).

Swinburne was also ranked among the world's top 400 universities in 2016–2017, for the fourth consecutive year. Additionally, we advanced to number 61 in the Young University Rankings and to number 60 in the Asia-Pacific University Rankings.

This is evidence of Swinburne's focus on high-quality teaching and research and is why Swinburne are leaders in science, technology, innovation, business and design.

“The best thing about studying online for me is that I can fit it into my everyday life. I can do a lot of other things and I can still manage to study at the same time.”

Renee

Choosing an Australian University

There are many reasons for choosing an Australian university for your higher education.

Australian universities

Australian universities are amongst the best in the world, making them the third most popular education destination in the world.

Australia currently hosts students from 194 countries and offers 22,000 courses across 1,100 institutions.

Quality assurance

Australia has a national regulatory and quality agency for higher education, the Tertiary Education Quality and Standards Agency \(TEQSA\).

This body was established by the Australian Government to monitor quality and regulate university and non-university higher education providers against a set of standards developed by the independent Higher Education Standards Panel.

Additionally, the following student rights are protected by law under the Education Services for Overseas Students \(ESOS\):

- > The well-being of all international students.
- > The quality of students' education experience.
- > The provision of up-to-date and accurate information.

Global employability and networks

Swinburne is known for its deep links with business and industry, and for developing international partnerships and collaborations. In recognition of our commitment to career-ready graduates, Swinburne was named among the top 200 universities in the world for graduate employability by the 2017 QS World University Rankings.

Upon graduation you will gain membership to Swinburne University's 140,000 strong alumni network, providing you with a passport to a global network of professionals across a broad range of industries.

Course fees for international students

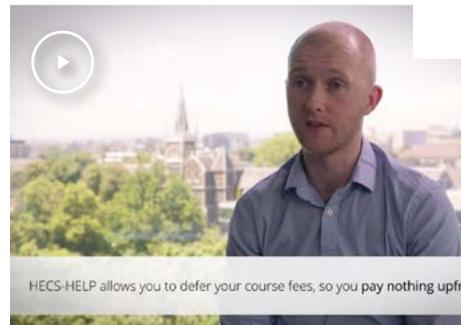

Forget about large upfront fee payments. You only pay for units (modules) as you study them, so managing your course payments is simple. Choosing to complete your course online means you receive a 30% scholarship compared to the cost of an on-campus course.

Additionally, studying online means you can enjoy the flexibility of working and studying. Doing so from your home country also means you won't incur the costs usually associated with relocating overseas.

All while receiving the exact same qualification as on-campus students.

The total cost of your degree will depend on the number of units required to complete your qualification. So if you've studied previously you may be eligible for credit exemptions.

Find out more about up-to-date costs in our international course fees section.
